

FIRE DESTROYS FARM HOME

Fire completely destroyed the farm home of Ernest Marles, 7th concession, East Gwillimbury, about a mile north of Holt, Sunday morning. LaVerne Marles, son of Ernest Marles, first noticed smoke coming from the roof of the house when he and his brother, Alvin, were getting dressed for Sunday-school about 9 o'clock in the morning. Shown above are two children walking across foundation of the house, all that was left. Photo by Budd.

The fire that started in the attic of the Marles house burned down to the cellar and most of the furniture, including three stoves, was lost with the exception of a few small articles taken from the downstairs rooms. Mount Albert fire brigade was called and after a delay in phoning, Newmarket Brigade was summoned, but flames had too much of a headway for firemen to save the house. Pictured above is the cellar that was below the living-room. Photo by Budd.

The Marles family is staying at the home of Ernest Marles' brother, a short distance away from the farm. The house, which had no electric wiring, was partly covered by insurance and Ernest Marles says that he plans to build on the same foundation as soon as lumber is available. Shown above left to right, are LaVerne, Alvin and Ernest Marles standing on the foundation. Photo by Budd.

Memorial Service For Dr. E. H. Robinson

Newmarket—A memorial service was held Tuesday afternoon at Inniscarra farm for Dr. Edward Hartley Robinson who died suddenly following a heart attack at Coral Gables, Florida, U.S.A., on March 8. The service, attended by friends and neighbors, was conducted by an old friend of the family, Dr. W. W. Judd, Toronto.

Dr. Robinson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wesley Robinson, Montreal, and was born there August 24, 1866. Following his graduation as valedictorian of his class at medical college in Cleveland, he did post-graduate work at Trinity College medical school in Toronto and in Vienna. He practised in Toronto and abroad, serving in France in the British forces during the first Great War. He was in rehabilitation work following the war until on the death of a relative, he assumed the presidency of the Penn Spring Works at Baldwinsville, N.Y. He purchased Inniscarra farm in June, 1938, and had lived there ever since.

Dr. Robinson was a member of the Royal St. George's Golf club in England, the Toronto Golf club, Toronto and North York Hunt club and the Granite club. He attended the Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Alice Luella Hawkes of Corning, N.Y., and Inniscarra, County Cork, Ireland, whom he married in 1916, a son, Thomas Gibbons Hawkes Robinson, a daughter, Alice Dewart Robinson, three brothers, George Lambert Robinson, "Perry", York Mills, Albert Henry Robinson, Montreal, Frederick Dewart Robinson, Syracuse. The funeral service was held in Coral Gables.

50-50 Club Hears Dr. Karl Bernhardt

Newmarket—Dr. Karl Bernhardt, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto, gave an outstanding address before a crowd of 125 at the 50-50 club in Trinity United church on Monday night.

Speaking on the broad subject of Mental Health, Dr. Bernhardt stated that "the antidote to worry is work—chop some wood, take a walk around the block, scrub the kitchen floor, they'll all banish worry. The two chief enemies of mental health are fear and the inability to deal with problems."

"Speaking further on the subject of work as opposed to too much free time, Dr. Bernhardt stated that a person who was mentally healthy invariably had the attitude of contribution toward mankind.

The Aurora couples club provided 20 minutes of semi-professional entertainment. The French-Canadian "habitant" and the voyage of "Chris" Columbus plus the melody of a young "fresh air" girl held a rapt audience. Refreshments, sing-song, and introductions closed the meeting. The next meeting of the 50-50 Club will be held Easter Monday evening, March 29, when a dress review and the Easter Story in tabloid will be presented.

Davis Shareholders Doubled - Gairdner

Newmarket—The number of shareholders in Davis Leather Company Limited has more than doubled during 1947. J. A. Gairdner, chairman of the board, states in the annual report released this week. Shareholders now exceed 3,000. This indicates increasing public interest in the company which is the largest manufacturer of calf leather in the British Empire.

Operations showed a net profit of $487,332.79, an increase from the 1946 figure of $350,955.45. Dividends of $1.50 on the Class A shares, and 70 cents on the Class B shares, totalled $259,808.32.

Current profits are equivalent to $4.87 per A share, and $2.15 on the B shares. Per share earnings of the previous year were $3.51 and $1.28 respectively. Working capital increased to $3,857,559.03 as compared with $3,598,057.08 in 1946. Investment reserve now stands at $314,000.00 and profit from sale of securities was $79,029.69 in 1947.

The tannery is now operating at capacity. Despite problems of price and supply, the company is continuing to meet both domestic and export commitments. Government control on exports of raw skins and finished leather from domestic sources forced the company to purchase raw material in foreign markets, the chairman pointed out. Owing to the heavy demand for calf leather throughout the year, raw material prices rose steadily. Corresponding increases were realized in the selling prices of finished leather.

"As we are progressively freed from restrictions, we can all proceed to do a more efficient job of production and merchandising," Mr. Gairdner declared. Export markets for the company's products will expand as foreign economic controls are eased. In this connection Mr. Gairdner stated the company is a vital source of American dollars from its exports to the United States. Any relief on import duties would help increase Canada's supply of U.S. dollars. Among other highlights cited by Mr. Gairdner was the fact that current labor rates are 189 percent of 1939 rates. Substantial provision has been made toward an employee's pension plan which will shortly be put into effect.

Five new outlets have been added to the company's worldwide sales organization. Production has resumed on a number of colored leathers dropped during the war. "The quality and popularity of our products remains unimpaired and continues as a leader in both the highest grade shoe manufacturing and handbag industries," he continued, urging shareholders to demand Davis Leather when purchasing quality shoes or handbags.

Bugle Band Has Tradition Of Merit

The R.S.A. Bugle Band, which Newmarket was justly proud of, came to an end after 11 years. Now the boys back from the services are together and with the younger people in town are trying to get the band going again. The R.S.A. Band won 14 competition trophies at Waterloo, Sunny-side, Aurora and Oshawa and one time it held the Ontario championship, defeating Toronto Signal Corps which held this honor for seven straight years.

The band had jobs with the Danford Businessmen's Association and at that time played for the King and Queen and C.N.R. vets on warriors' day at the C.N.E., taking first honors. It also had jobs with Balmly Beach rugby team, Toronto Maple Leafs ball and hockey teams, the Magenta Catala at Niagara Falls, Firemen's convention at Barrie, also Galt, Midland and towns in the North York district.

During the 11 years, no organization in Newmarket was ever refused the use of the band. The band forming today will be (Continued on page 12)

York Federation To Meet March 24

Newmarket—Meeting here recently, the directors of the York County Federation of Agriculture decided to hold their annual meeting on Wednesday, March 24, at 1.45 p.m. in the office of the department of agriculture here where comfortable and spacious accommodation is now available. With the recent growth in the number of farm forums in York county and general interest in the work of the federation a considerably increased attendance is anticipated.

For some time, the York Federation has been considering a hospitalization plan and this will be one of the chief topics to be discussed at the annual meeting. The guest speaker will be Wm. McCarthy, Shelburne, who is chairman of the Dufferin county committee on medical services which has pioneered this project. He is also chairman of the Farm Radio Forum committee for Ontario. President Roland Keffer, Maple, points out that all farmers are a part of the federation and are urged to attend this meeting.

The hog producers who attended the provincial meeting of their association in Toronto last week are also asked to be present to make plans for the annual meeting of their branch of the Federation of Agriculture.

'Heaven On Earth' At Hart House

By GOLDEN GLOW

This week is the week of Central Ontario Drama Festival at Hart House theatre, Toronto, preliminary to the Dominion Drama Festival, and Newmarket Dramatic Club was one of the fortunate groups chosen to compete. Monday, March 15, was their turn, with two other groups, to stage their choice, last month's play, "Heaven on Earth," with Mrs. R. D. Brown, Mrs. Fern Russell, Mrs. Jack Hamilton, Mr. Jack Struthers and Mr. F. D. L. Stewart forming the cast, with Mrs. Bowman as director.

To see everything carried on so smoothly it is hard to realize the extent, and the amount, of work entailed to make it such a perfect performance. Fancy all the workers behind the scenes who added their quota to the sum total of perfection we witnessed on the stage at Hart House. Not a slip anywhere, or, if there was, it was blissfully unaware of it! For besides the director they must have a prompter, an electrician, stage manager, make-up artists and a property manager, and they must to get in unison. I want to congratulate our Newmarket Dramatic Club on a wonderful performance, in a wonderful theatre.

Use Dynamite To Clear Ice

Newmarket—Ice jams were blasted by dynamite in the river from Queen St. to Davis Dr. Tuesday evening and yesterday by "powder monkey" Bill Morn-ing of Aurora. Frank Bowser, chairman of the council's roads and bridges committee, said that it was hoped to get the ice cleared out right back to Gorham St. in the east creek before another thaw, as it is not likely that any thick ice will form. The removal of the ice will decrease the danger of a back-up when the river swells again.

The sudden decision made by old man winter to give up the fight caused a violent reaction on Tuesday and water appeared everywhere, swelling the creeks and rivers. A thick smoke-like fog rolled around the countryside between Newmarket and Toronto making driving almost impossible after midnight Monday night. Ice had not broken up in the river and was holding much of the large volume of water coming over the Water St. dam.

A lake appeared in the low flats between Timothy and Queen Sts. east of the C.N.R. tracks on Tuesday after the sudden rise in temperature and warm winds, while water thundered over the dam at Fairway Lake. A large part of the low ground around the Hoffman Machinery Co. was sitting in water and employees had to dig trenches for drainage when pools started to form in a downstairs office in the plant. Employees had to move their cars from the flooded parking area.

Yesterday morning, a Bell Telephone Co. crew was fishing telephone poles out of the canal. High water had floated them away from a stock pile at the river edge at Davis Dr. and they had lodged in with the ice jam.

The blasting was held responsible for a short circuit in power lines Wednesday noon cutting power off for almost an hour in part of the town.

The blasting operations upstream loosened several ice dams in the curves near Queen St. bridge where the water level had risen almost level with the bridge and a large jam formed at the dam at the Davis Dr. bridge requiring several charges to remove it.

Teachers' Maximum Raised To $2,200

Newmarket—The public school board raised the maximum teachers' salary for women and men to $2,200 at a meeting in the council chambers on Friday night. The minimum salary remains at $1,800.

The board received a letter from public school teachers recently, asking for the maximum salary to be increased from $1,800 to $2,600. In the discussion preceding the change, Fred Hall said that he didn't think that the $1,800 had been enough. The chairman of the board, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, said that she didn't see why the single male teachers should get higher salaries than the women teachers.

A motion was passed to recommend that children starting school must be six years old by September 31 and should require a birth certificate or a letter of record for registration. The recommendation is to be sent to A. M. McKillop, inspector for public schools, for approval. By this policy, it is hoped to alleviate the overcrowded conditions of the schools. If A. Jackson, supervising principal of public schools, said that parents had been known to send a child under five years old to school.

Members of the board expressed their confidence in the judgment of a teacher, after a discussion about a recent complaint from a parent over his strapping of a pupil.

A report was given by principals on the condition of the three schools and on the recent improvements that included redecorating and minor repairs. Suggestions were made by the teachers for further improvements such as building more supply cupboards, Sam Jefferson, principal, Alexander Muir school, said that there has been a general settling of the Alexander Muir building in the last month. Signs of this condition he said, are doors that won't lock now, but which did a month ago, a change in the slate joints on blackboards and a door jam which has moved away from the wall. He said the new heating plant is satisfactory and that the building has been comfortable except for one or two mornings. He mentioned the danger of ice falling off the east side of the roof. Last year ice did damage to the coal shed at the back of the building when a considerable quantity of ice and snow fell off the roof in the early morning.

A modern tubular fire escape will be installed at the Alexander Muir school this summer. A similar one will be put on the King George school next year and one at the Stuart Scott the following year.

Mrs. Mathews said that each committee of the board will receive a statement of its appropriation funds for the year. She said that she remembered from last year that the committee on which she worked was not aware of the amount of money it could use and at the end of the year had money left over that could have been spent.

If A. Jackson reported that school attendance was 91.31 percent for the month of February.

Medical Bills $400 After Fall On Ice

Newmarket—Mrs. James McHale appeared before the Newmarket town council Monday night to ask action by the council in the consideration of costs suffered by her husband following an accident at Wellington and Prospect Sts. Christmas Day when he slipped on the icy road and broke his leg. Mrs. McHale said her husband's leg was still in a cast and that the doctor had said that it would be well into the summer before he would have full use of it.

She said that treatment of the leg had so far cost them over $400 and that her husband, who is a commercial artist, had been offered commissions to the value of $2,500 which he had had to reject because of his accident. Mrs. McHale said that she was working but that her income was limited because of the care required by her husband and small son.

Wellington St. at the scene of the accident is without a side-

Mrs. McHale said that the insurance company had first made a verbal offer of $150 and when they rejected it as being insufficient, had withdrawn it. EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS by Don Graham

Beware of boredom!

Many people spoil their chances for success in their work, blight a happy home life and even harm their health—because they allow themselves to be bored. So if you find you are losing your zest for living, take that as a warning signal.

Contrary to what you may think, boredom is not an unfortunate state of mind due to circumstances beyond your control. It is your fault. But within you lies the power to change.

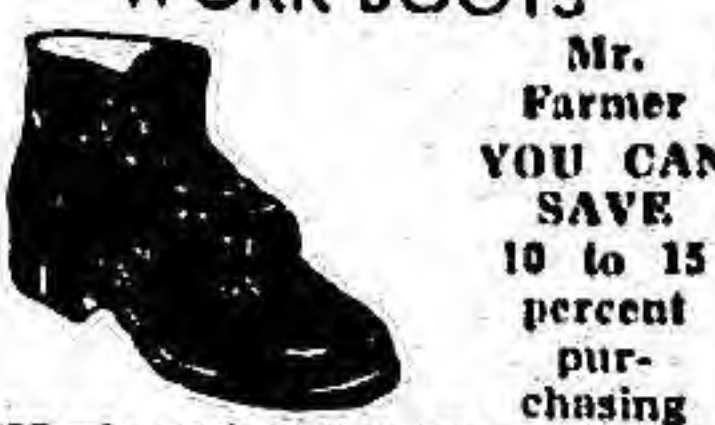

Try reading new books and different magazines. Go to work by a different route now and again. Dress in your best clothes more often. Bring home some unexpected treats. Develop new interests and hobbies.

Above all, take more inter-est in other people. Speak to them differently, enthusiastically. And lend a helping hand wherever you can.

You'll soon wonder how you could ever have found life dull! And you'll find that your corner of the world is a mighty interesting place after all!

It may also pay you to take a new interest in your life insurance program from time to time. Your family's needs keep changing. So it's wise to keep reviewing your policies to see if they meet your changing requirements.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN ABROAD

by W. L. CLARK, President
ONTARIO PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION

As I write this final letter, we are all back on our farms and going about our daily chores as usual. Our trip is over but the memory of the enjoyable time we had in Britain will remain with us for many a year. Thanks to the excellent arrangements of our sponsors, the Salada Tea Company of Canada, Ltd., and Imperial Oil Ltd., we were able to see a number of places of historical and agricultural interest while we were in Britain, as well as observe the conditions of the country and the people. I would like to summarize for you our impressions of agricultural conditions in Britain.

British Farming Methods

What impressed us most about British farms was the excellent way the farmer looks after his land. Proper care of the soil is, I think, the most important thing we have to learn from the farmers over there. In Britain, we didn't see any signs of erosion and they are plowing their land 10 and 12 inches deep while still maintaining a high rate of fertility. They are keeping their soil built up and if you do that you don't have to worry about erosion.

The British farmers work their land more intensely than we do and try to keep up the humus content of the soil. They also use more manure and more commercial fertilizers than we do. They keep a high percentage of stock per acre of land which gives them an extra supply of fertilizer. They get assistance from the government in obtaining commercial fertilizer, although the supply of this is limited. They are careful to have the fertilizer suit the crop. In between times they grow grasses and in Scotland, government regulations insist upon crop rotation.

Of course, the British farms are not as heavily mechanized as ours and they therefore need more farm help than we do. Over there, farm labor is unionized and the minimum wage for an eight-hour a day week is about $16.50. The average is about $20 with board and sometimes with lodgings.

Although hand labor is still very prevalent in Britain, the trend is towards mechanization and there is a big demand for machinery of all kinds. The country is surprisingly well supplied with tractors (one tractor for every four acres of land under cultivation). The pressure of wartime demand was the means of putting tractors on the farms. There is still, however, very little mechanization in the handling of crops, etc. We saw only one manure spreader and

Mrs. Wm. S. Terry Mourned By Many

The death of Elizabeth Ann Green, widow of Wm. S. Terry of Keswick, occurred Monday, March 8, and the service was held at the home Wednesday, March 10. Rev. Serrick had charge of the service assisted by Rev. R. E. Morton of Lansing, who in his early years was in Mrs. Terry's Sunday-school class in the old Methodist church where she taught for about 35 years.

Mrs. Terry was born in Cookstown July 28, 1856, and would have been 92 years old this July. She went to Bradford in her early years where she lived until her marriage about 70 years ago. She was the daughter of Martha and Henry Green of Ireland and retained her Irish wit throughout the years. She lived six months in Kirkfield after her marriage, then moved to Keswick where, with the exception of some months living in Denver, Col., and several in Toronto, she has lived in Keswick nearly 70 years. She lost her sight some years ago and has been an invalid nearly ten years.

She has seen many changes in Keswick and many of the old residents laid to rest. She was the oldest resident in Keswick. Always kind and hospitable, she had many friends, and during her many years ministered in many homes where there was sickness. She was always willing to give her time to help others. She retained her membership in the Presbyterian church though active in the Methodist and later Christian churches. She was a member of Lakeside W.I.

She leaves one daughter, Edyth (Mrs. Wm. A. Biby), in Topeka, Kansas, and Bessie at home. Relatives, Mrs. J. C. Miller and Reg. Miller of Orillia, were present, and nephew Ross Mahoney and family of Queensville; two nephews, Dr. H. W. Miller of New York and Gordon E. Mahoney of Colorado Springs, are all the remaining relatives of a large family beside those present. Mr. and Mrs. Biby, being in poor health, were unable to come for the funeral.

Interment was in Queensville. The floral tributes were lovely and the kindness of many friends a great comfort to those left.

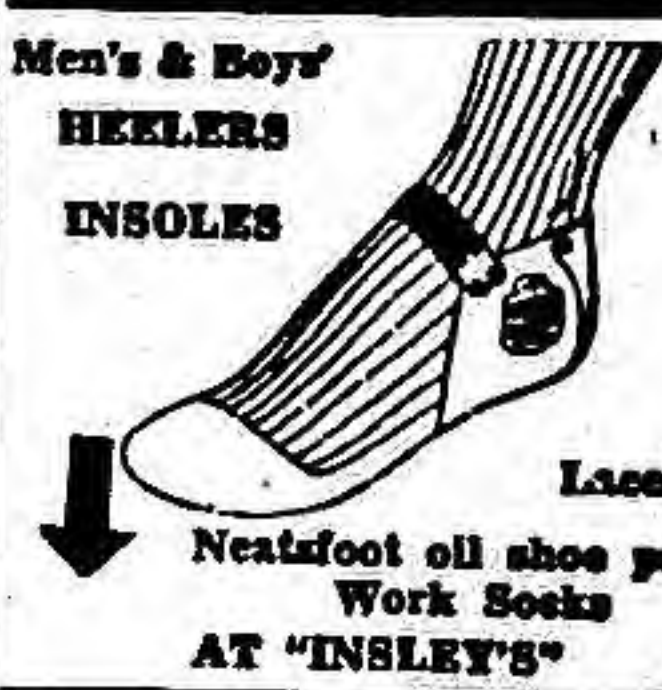

KESWICK

Miss Lynn Cowieson was the guest at her parents' home over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Draper, Mr. and Mrs. W. Draper were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Newmarket.

SHARON

St. James' W.A. Increase Pledges

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. James' church, Sharon, met on Wednesday, March 10, at Mrs. E. Kiteley's home with 17 members present. The president, Mrs. R. J. Rogers, led in prayer and the Litany Mrs. B. McNern read St. Mark 10, chapter 32; Mrs. A. Blunt is to give the Scripture reading in April.

Mrs. G. Macklin and Mrs. Grose paid membership as well as Mrs. M. Newroth, whom we welcomed as a new member in our branch. Mrs. A. Thomas read a letter of appreciation and thanks from Miss D. Curtis, the recipient of last month's parcel to Britain. Mrs. Kiteley, as convener of the purchasing committee, reported wool and linen, which many members took, and which is available for any wishing to help for the bazaar. Thankoffering boxes were distributed.

Mrs. Phillips, the treasurer, read the appeal for a five dollar increase in our pledges for this year. Mrs. Grose moved, and Mrs. McNern seconded the motion, that we accept the responsibility of $25 pledges this year to be sent at once. It was carried unanimously. The president spoke of the enjoyable trip a number made to Sutton to hear Mrs. Aitken and her appeal for help for Europe.

At the request of the secretary, Mrs. L. J. Farr gave a brief summary of the cost of a basement similar to that needed at the church. Much interest was shown and the information was passed on to the church council. Mrs. H. Vanstone gave the chapter from the Study Book, and Mrs. W. Osler offered to give it at the next meeting. The hostess, Mrs. Kiteley, served a delicious lunch and a few social moments were spent over the tea-cups.

BETHEL

The many friends of Mrs. Billie Stephens, who underwent an operation in York County hospital, are glad to hear she was able to return home last Saturday and hope she will soon be out again.

The ladies of Bethel W.A. and W.M.S. served lunch at Mr. Arthur Arksey's sale. There was a large crowd and the day was pleasant. Mr. Arksey has sold his farm on the sixth and is moving to Sutton. They will be missed by their many friends in this community.

The W.A. and W.M.S. will meet on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. Les. Stephens. Hostesses are Mrs. Fred Cooper and Mrs. Angus Cameron; convenors, Mrs. Kidd and Mrs. L. Stephens.

Next Sunday, March 21, will be Communion Sunday. We hope to see all out. There was a splendid class of young people out Sunday. Hope all will be back, it helps the teacher and encourages the minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smallwood and family of Hamilton spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smallwood. It being their daughter's birthday.

was the most successful yet. Twenty tables were set up. The men's prizes were donated by Mr. Greer. Look for you all next Wednesday when we will have another pleasant evening. Need For New School Grows

The approaching need for a new public school building in Newmarket becomes increasingly obvious. Most recent evidence is the resolution passed by the Newmarket public school board setting the entrance age at six years because of the crowding. The growing deterioration of the Alexander Muir building makes further expenditure on it a doubtful investment.

Generally, the question of whether it is feasible to build now has yet to be settled. Some argue that while the building costs are up, money is also more plentiful. Others say that it is cheaper in the long run to build at a time when costs are down. The Newmarket public school board has yet to examine the question with application to a new school but regardless of their decision, there is much preliminary work that could be accomplished now.

The choice of site is a major problem. Will it be on the east side of town and if so, where? Is a Prospect St. site to be sought or would it be safer to set the school on a side street, off from such a heavy traffic route? Possibly, land for a new school site will have to be expropriated. If so, the sooner the site is chosen the better.

The type of building can also be chosen in advance. Will it be a one-storey building after the modern style or will it follow the traditional two-storey fashion? How do the two designs compare in price? In heating cost? In efficiency? The answers to these questions could all be reached in advance so that when the board decided that the time was ripe for building, the preliminary work will have been accomplished.

Newmarket is not growing any smaller and if the present schools are crowded, what will it be like five years hence? The citizens of Newmarket have little choice in accepting this new charge, the cost of a new school, when it is placed before them.

If They Could Be Under One Roof

The antiquated quarters that Newmarket provides for sessions of the magistrate's court and the division court have in the past drawn many critical comments from presiding magistrates and judges. Certainly, the cold, barren auditorium in the town hall with its remnants of concert decorations and its portable magistrate's bench is not in keeping with the dignity that is traditionally attached to court proceedings. If the alternative choice of courtroom, the council chambers over the firehall, is pressed into use, there is the penalty of overcrowding in return for warmth that the auditorium is without.

But the lack of a courtroom compatible with the majesty of its function is not the only shortage in Newmarket. There is no library building which could also serve as a museum for the considerable store of historical documents and relics relating to the settling of this district. The firehall is a builder's nightmare—a building that continues its disreputable career despite condemnations as late as 25 years ago. The police quarters are crowded and while the council has contrived a degree of formality for its weekly meeting place over the fire hall the fact that the council chambers are two blocks from the clerk's office does occasionally present difficulties.

And the firemen must still divide their efforts between one engine at the top of Main St. hill and the other in a garage in another part of town.

In short, Newmarket is still without a municipal building in which could be combined all municipal offices including police quarters, courtroom, fire hall with sleeping quarters for firemen, library and clerk's office. In this discrepancy, Newmarket not only pays the price of inconvenience and lack of prestige, but a coal bill which would be less if all the facilities the town needs were under one roof.

C. Of C. Attacks Parking Problem

The newly-organized Chamber of Commerce in Newmarket is to be commended for giving first attention to the parking problem and to the establishment of a Better Business Bureau. In the former, they are tackling a problem that has so far defied all efforts by the council to completely solve in a satisfactory manner. Indeed, the parking problem has been a hand-saw to Newmarket for so long that it has become accepted as a chronic difficulty about which nothing can be done—a distinction it shares with the heaviest contributor to its existence, a too narrow Main St.

On the success that the Chamber of Commerce may have in solving the parking problem will be upheld the wisdom of the assertions of those, this paper among them, who have claimed that a Chamber of Commerce can fill a definite role in community life in the treatment of problems which are associated with business, problems which the municipal council, by its very nature, is unsuited to cope with.

The Better Business Bureau commends itself. Towns like Newmarket have always been considered fair game by every sharper with a smart idea and a quick pair of feet. The value paid out in worthless promotions by Newmarket merchants runs to many thousands of dollars. "Once bitten, twice shy" is a sound adage but the fly-by-night salesman spends his days thinking up disguises to clothe his project in the garments of respectability and the average businessman cannot be expected to know all the tricks.

The coming season should bring out an entirely new line of tricks as the sharpeners prepare to dazzle the honest businessman out of his earnings. With the help of a policing agency in the form of a Better Business Bureau, the dishonest can quickly be separated from the honest and the former run out of town.

Federation Can Do Only So Much

The brief presented by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture to the provincial cabinet last week was comprehensive in scope. It sought government assistance in providing better education and health facilities, increased appropriations for research, increased subsidies and bonus payments for quality produce, encouragement of co-operative schemes, a share in housing projects for farmers. In short, the brief was a many-pronged attack at the inequalities of return on labor and investment that handicap the farmer.

Federation briefs serve a very essential purpose for the farmer but they can accomplish little unless the farmer is prepared to do his share by growing quality produce, planning his crops, participating in marketing schemes and in general, conducting his business in a sound and businesslike manner.

The capacity crowd of Newmarket merchants, industrialists, agriculturists and professional men, which attended the inaugural dinner of the Chamber of Commerce is a good indication of the interest that the Chamber of Commerce has aroused. The executive is now campaigning for memberships. Back up that interest with one year's dues. Goodwill is helpful but a cash payment for dues indicates that you mean business.

The news that construction will begin on 50 low-rental homes in Newmarket within a few months is the best that has been received in town for some months, and the town council is deserving of commendation for their successful handling so far of the arduous negotiations that led to this achievement. The new homes will have a very distinct effect on the life of the town. The choice of site opens up new areas for development as residential sections. It is not unreasonable to expect further development to the west, eventually reaching Yonge St.

LATEST EFFORT TO MAKE ENDS MEET

Cat Nips

BY GINGER

Newmarket is being over run by dogs. If there aren't more dogs than people now, there soon will be. Frankly, I don't care if there are 100 dogs per acre in town but I think they should be kept under control and not allowed to romp the streets at will. A cat's life isn't worth a Main Street parking by-law under the circumstances. Worse than that, a good sturdy garbage can hasn't a chance either. On garbage days I have seen every third garbage can knocked over and the contents strewn all over somebody's front yard. Somewhere in the area you would probably find a party of hounds on their routine garbage rounds, prying into people's personal cans and making a mess all over the place. I shall not even attempt to explain what happens to small trees, shrubs and garden plots.

I live in a neighborhood that has an especially thick canine population. I got to bed at night and someone's mutt starts to bay at the moon. An hour's sleep is lost. One morning I woke up at 7.30. A small reconnaissance force of mongrels had ambushed an innocent kitten and cornered her up a hydro pole. The yowling was enough to drive one insane and I lost another half-hour's sleep.

The dog population might be cut down if every one had a license. It's the law that dogs have licenses but there are many pups roving around town that don't. I betcha that the garbage can casualty rate would be decreased no little if the licensing of pooches were strictly enforced.

"Henrietta has been associating with a skunk," says Chazz. The news reached my ears last week and has left me still more disillusioned about her so called noble background.

It was just a little while ago that she was telling me that she

"A cat may look at a king," said Alice. "I've read that in some book but I don't remember where."—Lewis Carroll.

was interested in the more cultured things in life such as literature. "I have been reading King Arthur and his Knights and also about Sir Gallahad and the Holy Grail," she said. "Those were the days when heroism and gallantry were afoot." "Yes Henrietta Delirium de Cadiz," said I, "those were some days but you hadn't better go dreaming about that sort of stuff and livin' in a world of fiction n' fantasy, as you'll develop a neurosis. You've gotta face the reality of life, Cadizy. There's probably more gallantry and chivalrousness nowadays only society has become so complex that it goes by unnoticed n' nobody writes about it."

Now Chazz says that she has been associating with a skunk. There may be something chivalrous about a skunk, I don't know, but both Chazz and I feel that a skunk is not a good thing to be mixed up with. It creates an atmosphere of something, I don't know what.

Chazz is pretty worried about Cadizy and this skunk getting together. "Imagine Homer and Cadizy raising a family," said Chazz.

"Did you say Homer?"

"That's his name."

"I don't think it would work," I said. We discussed the whole question thoroughly and even consulted a book on biology in the library but there is still considerable doubt in our minds as to the wisdom of such a combination as Homer and Henrietta.

Yesterday, Chazz came to work looking very haggard and said he hadn't slept a wink the night before from thinking about so confusing a problem. Chazz felt that their offspring, instead of having a stripe down their little backs, would have one running in the opposite direction, that is to say a white ring around the middle.

I am worried about Henrietta.

On Second Thought

By The Editor

WHEN DADDY FIXED THE PLUMBING

Bring out the hammer and bring out the glue, Get out the chisels and screw-driver too; Waken the children from their afternoon nap For Dad's going to fix a leaking tap. Nothing so brightens one's childhood days As helping Dad mend the plumbing's ways. Bang hammer on thumb, put glue in the hair There's no joy like helping Daddy repair. Oops! Goes the chisel down the main drain Splash! A pipe's burst—Daddy, look at the rain. The floors running water, but the kids in high glee Paddle through puddles up to their knee. At last it is night and the kids in their beds And visions of plumbing dance through their heads Mother is prostrate and Dad is a wreck The flood in the bathroom is up to his neck. Despite hammer on thumb and glue in his hair The kids sure enjoy helping Daddy repair.

Too Much Tax Exemption

(Barrie Examiner) Exemptions from assessment are depriving Canadian municipalities of needed revenue, and placing an undue tax load on private business and property-owners. This was the virtually unanimous opinion of informed Canadians answering a Financial Post questionnaire. The majority favored taxation of Crown corporations and revenue-producing public utilities; some would also include private schools and church property, if not used entirely for religious purposes. One writer suggested that municipal taxes should be allowed as a deduction when computing federal income tax. "Freedom from taxation," one answer said, "offers a strong temptation to governments or public institutions, to compete unfairly with taxpaying individuals. This tends to increase activities of the state, at the expense of the individual. At the end of the road stands Socialism."

NOTHING TO SHOUT ABOUT

There is nothing to shout about in the new International Wheat Agreement, states The Financial Post. Two of the world's major producers, Russia and the Argentine, are not included, nor are they likely to come in. With them on the outside the pact may prove an empty gesture in years of normal production and a costly venture for countries like Canada when crops are either abnormally small or abnormally large. In the first case we would be getting too little for our wheat, in the latter we might be undersold. With Russia and the Argentine operating independently, those two countries would indicate that they will not be slow about trying to do so. This is the great weakness of this incomplete international agreement.

Gleanings From Weekly Press

The Watford, Ont., Guide-Advocate wonders about the boys of today, who will be the leaders of tomorrow, offers this advice:

"The question is how will they think and act? They will live in a world which will require new thinking, entirely different from the past, a world devoted to the welfare of one's fellows with the goal of abundance for all, where kindness and charity, courtesy and good manners will become more important. That is the direction in which their viewpoint of life should be slanted."

At last public opinion is re-awakening to the injustices perpetrated and to the dangers inherent in adoption of any race dogma, declare the Vernon, B.C., News, commenting on the volume of protest asking the government to rescind its order banning Japanese from work in the interior forests.

Our party system, and not the lethargy of our professional and business men provides the answer to the cause of growing mediocrity in our parliamentary bodies, says the Huntsville, Ont., Forester. "This paper holds that unless one accepts the role of yes-man, for all party endorsements, he has no place into which he can fit comfortably into our political system."

"Free enterprise" is getting the blame a lot for the soaring prices, but government planners have created shortages, established fixed export prices, cut off imports, allotted materials and have put the Canadian dollar at par with that of the United States. The Hamilton Spectator says it is preposterous to blame "free enterprise" for the condition in view of all the government has been doing to gum up the works.

It seems extraordinary that all this protest against the high cost of living comes from men and women who are now disposing of the highest incomes which Canadians have ever had, editorially comments the Bridgewater, N.S., Bulletin.

Charging that complacency is the root danger of our democratic world, J. L. Rutledge writes:

"Communism is a poor cause, sponsored by poor people for poor ends. Almost 30 years of its promises and it can boast only a little better than three percent of the Russian people as espousing its beliefs. Thirty years of absolute power and it has not been able to give its workers as much as labor under a democratic rule, has achieved for itself in half the time. Communism is not a Russian creed, it is not a European creed—it is German and France only three percent of the people hold to it; in the Balkans four percent, in Italy five and in Greece six percent. Everywhere, only a slim minority, but that minority dominates the most of Europe as Russia's seven million communists dominate her more than 100 millions.

Bits of interest: At Rosetown, Sask., Jim Hunter and Doug O'Shaughnessy were awarded badges for safe driving at a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner. Jim drove five years, 80,000 miles without an accident. At Anenold, Sask., bonspiel, the Ham Grow (75) rink combined ages was over 300 years, with him were Pete Dadds (81), Joe Kinsella (74), Bill Hanna (75).

H. L. Martyn sold two horses to the Horse Processing plant at Swift Current, Sask., and one horse got away, came all the way back to the Avon Heights Farm, travelling 72 miles. An Alberta exchange carried this advertisement: "Roasting chickens, young plump, picked and cleaned. All ready for the rooster, per lb. 27c. At St. Mary's, Ont., the Rozman bowling alleys and interior was covered by a film of oil when an automatic oil furnace ceased to function and the spray finally worked out all over the premises. When Mr. and Mrs. A. Philip Port Alberni, B.C., came home from the movies, they found all their household effects, packed for moving, had been ransacked by burglars and $750 in bonds pilfered.

You Produce Them

(The Canadian Statesman)

If wages were a matter of negotiation, we would all negotiate ourselves a million dollars a year. But it isn't that simple.

You produce something; it is sold. That selling price has to include the cost of material you used; it has to include a small, very small, amount needed to keep your company in business. The rest is your wage.

If you produce more, there is obviously more for you; if you produce less, there is of course less for you.

You decide your wage by your production. And you decide something more... the security of your job. The less you produce, the more it costs. The more it costs, the fewer people there are who buy it. The fewer people who buy it, the less demand for your work... the less secure your job. You are seeing that right now in this buyers' strike against high costs.

Prices and wages and job security are a question of efficient production. And that is your responsibility.

OTTAWA LETTER

by "Jack" Smith, M.P. North York

Deeply disturbed because of communist treachery and aggression in Czechoslovakia, the nation's capital was shocked beyond measure last week at the tragic death of Jan Masaryk. Well known in Ottawa he was accepted as a symbol of the struggle for freedom.

His people of Czechoslovakia are recognized as being among the most politically mature people of the world. The conviction is growing that no country is safe from the aggression of Russia and its "fifth column," the communists of every country. Members of the communist party in any country are, in effect, citizens of Russia and should be recognized as such.

The sorrow of a great people which has been enslaved in turn by Nazis and communists within ten years has kept the spotlight on world affairs here. Strong public support is needed for every agency dedicated to the cause of peace.

This week the Secretary of State for External Affairs announced that steps would be taken to prohibit entry to Canada of known communist agitators. Moreover, some now in this country likely will have their permits cancelled.

A bill will come before the House to outlaw in Canada the Communist Party which advocates overthrow of our democratic form of government by force. There is pretty general agreement with the aim of the proposed measure, but there is a wide difference of opinion on the advisability of such prohibitory measure.

The debate on the Speech from the Throne came to an end at long last and on the division, which by the way, is considered one of the main divisions of the session, saw all on the opposition side voting against the government. On this important test of strength, a real vote of confidence, the government majority was 12.

The Price Investigating Committee meets daily at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. and while disclosures have not been sensational the feeling here is that the committee is serving a very useful purpose. Not only does it bring out information interesting and helpful to the consumer, but it has helped make Canadians more price conscious. It has, too, I think, been a very effective check on any who may have had plans for unwarranted profit-taking during this critical period.

The signing of the International Wheat Agreement announced in the House this week, is a matter of far-reaching importance—more important than its treatment in the press indicated. Agreement has been reached by representatives of 36 countries. The agreement is for a period of five crop years and commences August 1, 1948. Price ceilings and floors have been established, and the quantities each importing country agrees to purchase is set out in schedule. By balancing the interests of both producing and consuming countries in an agreement covering the bulk of the world's trade in wheat, the agreement represents a major development in international economic co-operation.

ZEPHYR
James B. Keetch
Hale And Hearty At 87

At the age of 87, James Benjamin Keetch was able to walk down the street of the little village of Zephyr, hale and hearty, and able to enjoy the good things of life. It can almost be said of him as of one of the great Bible characters: "His natural force was not abated." He stands erect and walks with a good and steady step. The main impairment to his natural vigor is that today he is considerably deaf; one has to talk quite loud to make him hear.
He was born in Georgina township four miles south of Sutton. He boasts he was the smallest baby. Weighing only three pounds, he came to be the heaviest in a family of ten, and also to live the longest. He was one of twins and his twin sister predeceased him 20 years ago. He has a family, one son farming on the seventh line of Whitchurch, a daughter living near Aurora, and one son dead.
By trade he was a mason, though for a number of years he farmed south of Zephyr and also in Whitchurch township. In height he is 5 feet, 11 inches. He has always a great walk and thought nothing of walking to Newmarket, or Uxbridge, or Mount Albert. His wife predeceased him about 16 years ago. Today he enjoys good health and while retired he is able to do many chores. Only four times in his lifetime has he had to have a doctor, once he had typhoid, another time smallpox, and another time he broke his ankle.
We join with his many friends in hearty congratulations and the hope that he may be spared to enjoy life for years to come.

CANADIAN PLOWMEN
their method of handling grain is still antiquated and slow.
We found the British farmers cheerful and optimistic about the future. This is not hard to understand since agriculture in Britain is more prosperous than it has ever been. The farm lands around East Lothian, near the Firth of Forth, were, we thought, the best in the country. Agricultural prices are good although controlled. Subsidies are still in effect on a number of items and for this reason it is impossible to compare British and Canadian prices.
British Plowmen Anxious to Compete in Canada
At the matches, several of the British plowmen expressed a desire to compete in a Canadian plowing match. I pointed out to them that if they did come they would have to plow according to our rules, just as we had to abide by their standards in Britain. While the British plowmen use the practical style of plowing on their farms, they still favor the high cut work and narrow furrow for matches. I don't think it will be long until they are copying our style. One thing that seemed strange to us about British plowing was the general use of the wheel. Here, of course, only the young boys use wheels.
The Salada horse plowmen, John Capton and Alf Brunton, had a curious experience the first time they plowed in Britain. Over there, the farmers say "Whoa" instead of "Whoa" to stop their horses. The difference in expression was at first almost as confusing to the boys as it was to the horses. There were a number of other factors about the British farms which caught our eye. Glen McFadden was particularly interested in the construction of their barns and their method of feeding cattle, while Russ Hare was impressed with the neatness of the buildings and the care of the land.
Barns in Britain are quite different from ours. They are not as large for one thing, being just one storey, and are rather squat in design. They are made of stone and have slate roofs. Inside they are divided into compartments. Cattle are fed the year 'round in open pens. These pens have a roof and one or two open sides. Their method of threshing struck us as unusual. They thresh only when the grain is needed—which is about once a week—and then bring the stacks into the barn where the machines are kept.
To sum up our experiences abroad, I would say that we have had the opportunity of seeing how the other people live and work as well as acquiring knowledge which we can put to good use on our farms. On a trip such as the one we have had, there are some things which are hard to evaluate—the friendships made; the good-will built up and the contacts established. The results may be more far reaching than we can imagine.
The youngest member of our party, John Capton, is the idol of all Britain. Winner of the Salada Silver medal for horse plowing, John had such a wonderful time that he is casting envious eyes on the tractor prize so that he can visit Britain, and particularly northern Ireland, again.
Our sponsors are to be commended for their enterprise in promoting this trip. They did everything possible to make our visit profitable and entertaining, as did the officials of Ontario and Canada House in London. As a pleasant conclusion to our trip, we had a comfortable return voyage on the Queen Elizabeth. We have had a grand trip—all of us. I hope our good fortune will be shared by many more Canadian farmers and will swell the entries in next year's International Plowing Match.

In Memoriam

Crittenden—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Amos Crittenden, who passed away March 17, 1942.

God knew that he was suffering, that the hills were hard to climb,

So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine".
Sadly missed by Clarence, Della and Jack.

Johnson—In loving memory of our dear son, Clifford T. Johnson, Flt. Sgt. air gunner, RCAF, who lost his life on a raid over Germany, on March 22, 1945.

We think of him in silence,
His name on our lips of recall;
There is nothing left to answer,
But his picture on the wall.

Ever remembered by his father and mother.

Johnson—In loving memory of Flt. Sgt. Clifford Johnson, missing over Hendersonburg, Germany, March 22, 1945.

He has gone across the river
To the shores of heaven;
And we long to see his dear face,
But the river flows between.

Ever remembered by sister Hil-da, brother-in-law and Keith.

Price—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Benjamin Price, who passed away on March 20, 1946.

We thank God for our memories of you,
And for the years of happiness He gave to us.

Love's greatest gift,
Honour and remembrance.
Lovingly remembered by his wife and family.

Tatton—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, who passed away March 23, 1939;

a dear father and grandfather, who passed away March 23, 1939;

our sister, Phyllis, who passed away March 22, 1920 and our brother Kenneth, who passed away August 22, 1920.

Their lives are beautiful memories
Their deaths our silent grief;
They sleep in God's beautiful garden.

In the sunshine of perfect peace,
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Audrey, Fred and family.

West—In sad and loving memory of a dear son and brother, Charles H. West, who passed away one year ago March 18, 1947.

We watched him suffer day by day,
It caused us bitter grief
To see him slowly pine away,
And could not get relief.

His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past;
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by dad, sisters, Elma and Jennie (Mrs. Bert Donaldson).

BARBER SHOP AND CAT TALES

Ever since years ago my husband and a friend of ours undertook to enlighten my ignorance in regard to barbershop harmony, it has had a fascination for me and a special little corner in my music life. When the choir of Newmarket United church chartered a bus to visit Massey Hall and listen to the parade of barber shoppers, my husband and I formed an enthusiastic couple for the trip.

But alas and also alack! The other member of the family went to a sick bed instead so with Mrs. G. McClure I joined the choir and we set off for Toronto. I think everyone in Toronto and the surrounding district was that night on pleasure bent and traffic was congested so that we turned more corners than I thought even Toronto boasted of, but eventually we reached our destination—with a few thousand others—and settled ourselves in the excellent seats provided.

Never had I dreamed that there were so many enthusiastic admirers of barbershop harmony but there they were as many as could be squeezed into the poor old hall and then, even with the afternoon performance, there were still those who could not be accommodated.

Now, for a great part of my life, I sang in a quartette and listening to the four who appeared, I tried to find out exactly where the harmony differed. I could tell and had been told by my spouse of differences but I wanted something more definite.

I was wishing there had been a test piece and then one could have found the difference in harmonization. However, we were told some of the differences, for my question was evidently many people's question. They are never accompanied. They use no printed score and they can improvise at will in any given theme. Instead of the second tenor acting as lead in a straight quartette, there is a lead voice which carries the melody.

We listened to ten quartettes and with no sense of weariness. The costumes were good—although in one case we wondered if they'd hang together till the concert was over. I think what held the intense interest of the crowded house was the sense of expectancy—just how would this group treat its members? And besides this, you had a feeling of being let into something that was giving the participants the most exquisite pleasure. The very way they grouped themselves showed how they felt for each other's tones and you knew they did it for the love of it.

The announcers emphasized the way barbershop singing brought people together—you only needed one thing—the love of making music to make you eligible.

There was one thing that struck me rather forcibly—the hard to explain and yet strongly marked difference between American and Canadian quartets. Strange to say it was the Americans who specialized most strongly in "the old song, the good old songs for me". At least they sang the ones I had long been familiar with and to judge by the response of the audience a lot more people felt the same way.

But they were all good, even the comic four who shot their bass and drew a pseudo bass of cavernous tones from the audience. No one there would have missed the experience and one can see the need for a bigger and better Massey Hall if they return. It did my heart good to see and hear the entente cordiale between Canadians and Americans.

One other phase of the evening was the community singing led by Capt. George Campbell, a complete master of an art, of all arts the most difficult. He made us do the nearly impossible.

Thousands of people sung and obeyed his slightest direction. I do not know how many people are affected, almost to tears, by mass singing, but it is to use common parlance—gets me and when that vast audience sang the Ball of St. Mary's, it was something to hear and see. Yes, to see, for every eye was on the conductor in a way many choir conductors would give their batons for, and if Capt. Campbell pointed to one section, that one section sang and the rest stopped and when all were drawn in, it was tremendous.

He made us do all kinds of things with our hands and wound us by telling us to shake hands with the person behind us. Like sheep we all turned to find, of course, that the line behind had turned too and our hands waved in empty space. It was good to hear the roar of laughter.

An Apology to Ginger
When I read to my Beauty and my Stripes what Ginger felt on being called anaemic they drooped their tails and hooded their eyes and muttered anathemas at me under their breaths for having hurt Ginger in his most sensitive feelings. "But," I defended myself, "he just hunc like a rat in the gentleman's hand—more like a neck piece than a cat." "That's just like a human," said Beauty out of her vast experience. "Just because he was a perfect actor and knew how to act his part and cause no trouble by unnecessary meows and writhings, you thought him anaemic! Shame on you who professes to understand cats."

"Tell him from us that we apologize for you and your cats and home some day to do it in person." I meekly surrendered and hereafter apologize and close with a little song I sing which is quite, I think, appropriate.

The Artist
He was a cat of cultured taste and most artistic views. He never had the time to master in ordinary news.

He had a friend—a brother Kit whose coat annoyed him much. It did not suit his face a bit and looked artistic touch. Said he, "I am quite certain that you really would appear much nicer as a tabby cat, now don't you think so, dear?" He took his pot of paint and brush, commencing with the tail.

When Mouser mowed, he murmured "Tush, or else the scheme will fail!"

A few mistakes at first he made; the paint went in Kit's eyes. At length was done, "Sit down," he said, "until it nicely dries." And when 'twas nicely dried, he took him round for all to see. Just how a tabby cat should look, and what his coat should be.

Golden Glow Guest At Firemen's Euchre

BY GOLDEN GLOW

Last Friday evening I was a guest at the Firemen's Annual Euchre party, and everybody, including myself, had a wonderful time. It was held this year in the Boy Scout Hall, formerly the Bugle Band Hall, and we all kept remarking what a shiny, clean, comfortable hall it was for just such an occasion. We recalled many a pleasant evening spent there in earlier days, before and during the war, and we were all pleased to see it now taken over by the Boy Scouts.

On the wall above the platform, under draped flags, are pictures of members of the Scout movement who went overseas, some of whom paid the supreme sacrifice; there's a large picture showing the different members of the Ranger group, with names underneath—and, so far as I know—every member of which was in uniform during the second Great War. That Ranger group certainly used to have good times. They felt rather "elderly" in the Scouts, so formed this group of Rangers. They had a clubroom of their own on D'Arcy St. and carried on. How the sight of that photograph took me back to the days before the war! How proud Newmarket was and is—of our splendid young men, some so very young still when they left for overseas.

The Scouts have a capable, good-natured caretaker who goes to all kinds of trouble to keep everything shining, to keep everything warm and comfortable. They have made an apartment for him in the hall so he won't have to take chances on the icy pavements as he was a casualty of World War I and does not walk easily. That seems to bear out the Scout's motto of "a good deed every day."

But I was writing mainly about the enjoyable euchre party sponsored by the Firemen and their wives. The Firemen are certainly a united group, so congenial and so good-natured, and so easy to meet, and in the game nobody was too tense to stop and chaff and laugh, and have a merry time, without an eye on the prizes. Wait till I tell you about the prizes, baskets of groceries no less, all done up in cellophane, and looking so attractive and acceptable.

Then we sat down to supper in a long line reaching the length of the room, with the card tables put together to make one long table. The men did all the waiting. We just had to sit comfortably and be waited on. Whoever made the coffee certainly knows how—and the tables groaned under large platters of sandwiches of every kind, and grand pickles. But the cakes! Now I am telling you the firemen's wives can certainly make cakes! It was an altogether happy party which broke up about 11.30—and one outstanding feature was the presence of former Chief-General Mr. Wesley Osborne, Toronto, and I can assure you he enjoyed it as much, if not more, than anyone. Hurray for Newmarket's Fire Brigade.

Opinions varied very much, some liked it—some said "Bosh". His mother licked him—just a touch, and only said "Twin't wash!"

FARM BULLETIN

WHAT'S WHAT about WHEAT

The latest available annual figures show a cash return to farmers of over 340 million dollars from wheat. So, the development of new and harder varieties to resist drought, cold, insects and plant diseases is vital. They affect not only wheat farmers but also those who eat wheat products. Rescue is a new sawfly-resistant wheat developed by Dominion Experimental Farm cerealsists in co-operation with the Dominion Entomological Division. This new variety has an extra-tough stem to discourage the sawfly grub which is hatched within the stem and weakens the grain until it topples. Cerealsists at Experimental Farms are also considering the possibility of a grasshopper-resistant wheat.

If you have a farm problem why not ask your nearest experimental farm or agricultural college for assistance. This may save you time, work and money.

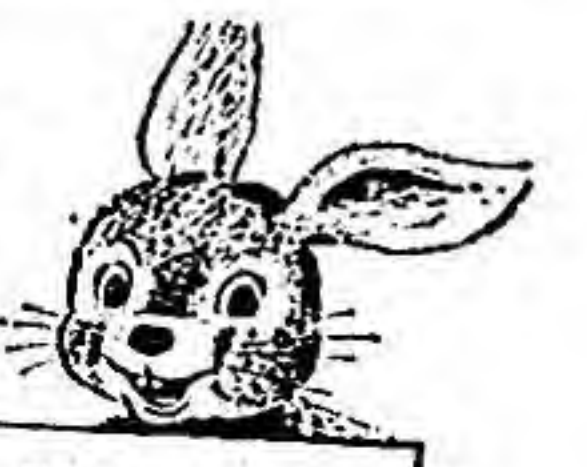

The person to go to with a money problem is the manager of our nearest branch. Responsible farmers will find him always willing to assist them in every possible way. Drop in and talk things over with him.

18 Years Assessor, Cummings Resigns

Fred Cummings, assessor for the twp. of Whitcomb, has resigned the position and his resignation was received with regrets by the council in session at Vandorf last Saturday. Reeve Evans and members of council asked Mr. Cummings if there was any use in making overtures to him and he replied "no".

Thirteen years ago, Mr. Cummings was appointed assessor for half the twp. and three years later took on the whole job alone. Councillors said he had done an excellent job. He is a builder and electrician and this factor enabled him to be a good appraiser. Further, he kept accurate figures and carefully written assessment rolls.

Since Mr. Cummings became an assessor the roll has grown by approximately $300,000, he estimates, while hundreds of new assessments, mostly small and in the lake areas, have been added.

Clerk Crawford was instructed to call for applications to fill the positions, and these will be acceptable until April 9. Mr. Cummings promised to give assistance to a new man while getting familiarized with the work.

Sheep Claim
A sheep claim filed by Arthur Vernon was ordered paid in the amount of $15 for one sheep killed by dogs.

Ex-warden Chas. Hooper, accompanied by Mr. Watson, addressed council on behalf of the federation of agriculture. Mr. Hooper suggested that Whitcomb provide $600 this year. "If we are to maintain our prestige, that which we have now gained at Ottawa and at Queen's Park, we must have money to carry on," Mr. Hooper declared. "We have to keep men on the job at these points."

The farmers are now strong enough at Ottawa to be recognized and any farm legislation pending is known to them. They are working for the farmer, and if farmers assert themselves through the federation, they can demand their rights as the largest industrial group in Canada, he emphasized. Mr. Hooper said there was a possibility of covering every farm family with hospitalization insurance at moderate cost through the federation.

Later in the day council made a grant of $250 to the federation. Last year they donated $150.

The agreement was signed with the town of Aurora designating the fire area and the cost to the twp. for west side of Whitcomb, similar to the agreement in existence with Stouffville on the east side.

Councillors Ivan McLaughlin and Fred Timbers moved a resolution supporting the demands made on the dominion government for $100 per month for total disability pay veterans. "I am right for it," said Deputy-Reeve Logan.

"I am in sympathy with the payment but such resolutions only clutter up the waste baskets," said Reeve Evans who supported the resolution.

Maple Breeders Show Much Growth

Following a series of four meetings in adjoining counties this week, the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association will hold its annual meeting in the Masonic Hall at Maple on Monday of next week, March 22, at 1.30, to receive reports and elect its officers and directors for 1948, according to an announcement by secretary J. M. McDonald of Maple.

The meetings in the neighboring counties were arranged for the convenience of the many farmers who could not be expected to get to Maple. Each group has been asked to elect a local committee and nominate a director for the 1948 board so that all members have direct representation. The Ontario county meeting was held at Manchester on Monday afternoon Halton county, at Milton on Tuesday, Simcoe at Stroud on Wednesday, and Peel at Brampton on Thursday.

At each meeting Jersey and Ayrshire members were being signed up with a view to having bulls of these breeds included in the artificial breeding unit at an early date — possibly when the new barn is opened. Already over 100 Ayrshire members are lined up and a cordial invitation is extended by the directors to anyone interested in the dairy breeds to attend the meeting at Maple on Monday.

The remarkable success of this new breeding program has resulted in 85 percent of the members disposing of their bulls — one of the worst hazards of the farm — and the use of sires much superior to those most farmers could afford to purchase. The membership made tremendous growth during 1947, jumping from 282 to 685. During 1947 a similar unit serving the counties of Eastern Ontario was organized with headquarters at Kemptville and at present another is being organized for the Quinte district to take care of the counties between Maple and Kemptville units. Approximately 800 members were signed up before their meeting last week.

In February W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, York county agricultural representative, addressed a group of 300 farmers in Essex county where a new unit was being launched, and recently, accompanied President G. W. Keffer of Maple, Vice-President Norman Porter of Thornhill, and Chief Technician Dr. C. R. Reeds, to Lindsay and Peterboro to outline the work of the Maple unit to the farmers of Victoria and Peterboro counties who had previously sent delegations to meet the Maple Club directors and asking to be included in this unit.

Trinity W.M.S. Holds Easter Service

Newmarket — The Easter Thank-offering service of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity church was held on March 11. The Bible lesson was read by Mrs. McMath, and Miss Watson gave a talk on temperance. Mrs. F. Robinson gave an interesting chapter of the Study Book, telling of the work and suffering of missionaries in India and Burma over 100 years ago.

It was decided that W.M.S. members would serve luncheon for the next Red Cross sewing day, in the Sunday-school rooms, on March 25, the proceeds to be given to the Canadian Appeal for Children Fund.

All ladies are welcome at the next regular meeting at 2.45 p.m. on April 8.

GUEST SOLOIST

Newmarket — Marlene Boudreau, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. M. E. R. Boudreau, was the guest soloist of Mr. Frank Holton of the Rainbow Hour over the Brantford radio station on Sunday evening. Miss Boudreau's solos were "By the Waters of Babylon" and "An Evening Prayer". The broadcast was heard in Newmarket very clearly by many of the local radio listeners.

Seek $50,000 Memorial To Archbishop Owen

A campaign to raise $50,000 for a memorial to the late Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, formerly archbishop of Toronto and Primate of All Canada, will be launched on or about April 9, which is the first anniversary of the archbishop's death.

The memorial will be a dual one—the establishment of a lectureship to be known as The Archbishop Owen Memorial Lecture, which will be delivered every two or three years, on the general subject of the church in relation to present day problems, by eminent speakers from the British Isles and elsewhere; and two scholarships, to be awarded each year to students in any of the Canadian Anglican theological colleges, with preference to those ready to serve on graduation, in one of the church's missionary areas.

The decision to establish such a memorial was reached at a meeting of the executive council of the General Synod at Saskatoon last September, when a committee appointed by the new primate, the Most Reverend G. F. Kingston, brought in its recommendation by the executive council and a memorial committee representing the various ecclesiastical provinces across Canada has now been set up to conduct the campaign.

Streamlined Feeding

(Smith's Falls Record News)
Probably it had to come sooner or later in this assembly-line age. The United Kingdom Information Office solemnly reports the invention, by a British engineer, of a "conveyor-belt cafe." The UKIO press release says this about the new invention which could be termed assembly-line feeding:

"The conveyor-belt cafe consists essentially of three synchronized conveyor belts travelling at equal speed and in the same direction and representing a table and seat and the floor between. Movements are so coordinated that the only sensation of movement the diner can acquire is by comparing his position with some fixed object. The diners, sitting on air-cushioned seats, are moved from soup to dessert in 20 minutes, the time fixed as the average for people to eat a three-course meal. After five minutes, when the soup is finished, the seat has moved to the point where the main course is served, and 10 minutes later to the desert and coffee section. Underneath each seat on the belt is a compartment for hats, coats, and parcels."

No doubt, as is claimed, the conveyor-belt cafe saves time and space and overcomes the main drawbacks of the cafeterias — the queuing, the stop-and-go progress with tray behind some character who never can make up his mind what he wants, and so on. It strikes us, nevertheless, as mechanization running amok. What, for instance, of the occasional lover of cold soup? Will he be in danger of being swished right past the main course while he's still engrossed in the former?

And what about the dawdlers over coffee and dessert? Those who have always been haunted by that step from the end of an escalator to solid footing will want some assurance that the end of this assembly-line eating place has some crash-proof arrangement before they give it even qualified approval. Imagine being dumped off the end of a conveyor-belt in a welter of coffee, dessert, coat, hat, and parcels! And at a supercilious cashier's feet, probably.

Lose First Round In Overtime
Outlucked, but not outplayed or outgrown, Aurora Flyers bit the dust at Midland on Tuesday night before the onslaught of the northern Huskies 5-3 in overtime. It was the first game of a best of three series, with the second contest carded for Aurora Arena tonight at 8.30.
Lacking top-flight competition for over a month the Flyers were dead on their feet in the extra session, but there wasn't an Aurora supporter who left the classy Midland ice palace who didn't mutter "It'll be a different story on Thursday." The two clubs are evenly matched and whichever enters the next O.H.A. round will be a real contender for the division championship.

DOWN THE ALLEYS Hockey Briefs
By GEO. HASKETT, JR.
To paraphrase a present day song hit, "Now is the Hour," for our town fathers to give serious consideration to the question of an artificial ice arena for Newmarket. It is our opinion the matter should be investigated immediately as to the cost and possibilities of remodelling the present arena or building an entirely new structure. When the plans have been formulated, the various costs gathered together, they could then be submitted to the voters for their decision. Newmarket has been known as "The Hub of North York" for many years. If we are to continue to rate this motto, we must be prepared to keep in the forefront otherwise our neighbors will beat us to the punch and come up with what is close to the heart of all our hockey and skating followers.
We believe it should be a community project. It can be done. There is not the slightest doubt of this. Other towns are doing it some larger, some smaller. A new arena, or if a remodelling job on the old one can be completed to make the structure comparable with Barrie or Midland rinks, would be the ideal set-up. Our present Memorial Arena has a seating capacity of approximately 1,000. To make it a paying proposition, with artificial ice, the seating capacity should be double this with standing room facilities for another 700 or 800. It could be made a paying proposition with live-wire management at the helm which possibly might mean the hiring of a permanent manager.
The advantages of artificial ice, you may ask? Just to mention a few, a longer period for the boys and girls of Newmarket for skating and recreation; a greater opportunity to develop hockey talent; play-off games would fall to Newmarket; the possibility of some of the pro hockey clubs making Newmarket the site of their fall training. This, along with play-off games, would bring business to our merchants, the hotel, the restaurants as well as bringing publicity to Newmarket. Personally, we would like to see the newly-formed Chamber of Commerce behind the artificial ice project as well as our Recreation Council.
A sincere effort should be made to investigate the matter thoroughly from all angles and the matter brought before the voters. Newmarket is growing. Let's keep it the best town in Canada. One way to do this is by putting it back on the hockey map. It will cost money but why not give our children the best.
ly defend his title of Canada's champion bugler and also D. Blair who won first for drumming.

BUGLE BAND HAS
known as the Newmarket Trumpet Band and will consist of drum major, two standard bearers, 12 snare drums, two tenor drums, one bass drum and 24 trumpets. These instruments cost $3,300 and should be a credit to the town of Newmarket. It has 29 of the old original members who total 104 years of military service between them and training which should be to a big advantage over the old days when J. Hellam had to show members their right foot from their left.
The Newmarket town council, organizations and industries have been approached on this question with favorable results and it is hoped that a statement will be made on this soon, but there is still a long way to go and everybody's help would be appreciated to make this band as good as before. The instructors are Jim Bradford, who is North American champion drummer and a member of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. In Newmarket it has Frank Burling who went to Waterloo last year to successful-

Flyers Win Gives Aurora Group Honors
By AB HULSE
Aurora Flyers took the district junior C group honors by two straight wins over Unionville Lions last week. Both games were played at Aurora and while the Flyers took both contests by wide margins, 12-1 and 11-4, the scores do not indicate the calibre of the play. Unionville provided opposition all the way, never gave up trying and with the addition of one or two more players would have made it closer. Flyers, while not facing grade A competition, looked better than they ever have since mid-season and they look to be in fair shape for O.H.A. playdowns. It marked the first Aurora group win since 1940 when Tigers were campaigning in the B series. There was no junior hockey here of course from 1942 until last season. The completion of the Unionville series sets a new record for completing a group winner—the latest ever. Both games were cleanly played and no damage was suffered by the members of either club.
AURORA 11 - UNIONVILLE 4
The first Saturday night game in Aurora in many years drew a fair crowd despite the fact everybody knew Flyers had it in the bag. Keith Kyle replaced Smith in the nets and played well. Howard Patrick bagged four markers and along with Bill Patrick and Dave Hopper, his mates of "the shock troop" line found the going to their liking racking up 11 scoring points. Doolittle scored two goals and added two assists, the top scoring performance for the burly defenceman this season. Mike Brinkos sat out his first game of the season, while Bill McGhee, out with illness the past few games, rejoined the team. Aurora drew all the five penalties meted out by referee Red Woods, but the game was generally clean. Unionville players were the first to congratulate the victorious Flyers.
AURORA 12 - UNIONVILLE 1
Eric Smith was robbed of a shutout for the fourth time this season as Len Wright scored at 17.55 of the second period. "Smitty" put on his usual fine display and on at least five occasions came out of his nets to smother lone puck carriers in the clear. Bill Wilkinson and Ron Simmons spear-headed the attack and each picked up five scoring points. Wilkinson accounted for three goals, and Simmons two. Howard Patrick and Capt. Loring Doolittle each hit paydirt twice. "Long Jawn" Andrews was the only Aurora player failing to record on the score sheet. Harry Morrison of Toronto handled the game and kept both teams attending to their business. Two newcomers to the visiting line-up, Curry and Coburn, turned in nice performances. Summerville tried hard in goal but was no match for the Aurora snipers.

PLAY-OFF PARADE
After nearly three months of the regular O.H.A. season, Aurora Flyers are finally on the play-off trail. As you read this the first game, by virtue of artificial ice, will be history and you'll have had a chance to tell just how good the Midland Huskies, who provide the opposition, are and for that matter, the Flyers too. Midland, coached by Fawf Wilcox, well known in these parts for his performances in the past with Midland intermediates, is reputed to be young, big and fast and an entirely homebrew team. Not since the days of Butch Arbour and the late 20's has Midland produced a good junior club and this one is said to be plenty good. All winter, lacking junior opposition near at hand, the Huskies played intermediate hockey grouped with Larry Cain's Collingwood seconds, Coldwater and Penetang Legion and they finished on top of that group. The intermediate grouping was of course B in rating and comprised largely of players past their prime, but the competition must have been tough enough. Flyers, of course, by virtue of their showing against Bradford and Hoffman's, have proved their ability to mix it successfully with the older fellows.
In the first round Midland met and eliminated Brantford juniors and were then ordered to meet Goderich Flyers, the defending junior C champs. Midland, backed by some powerful O.H.A. support, bucked that round and as late as Monday, acting secretary Geo. Panter of the O.H.A. (he's only president) thought they had played the series with Goderich. The winner will presumably stack up against Gananoque, the eastern winners who vanquished Lindsay. In another bracket, Thorold, with most of that midget team of 1946 who played against Aurora, are meeting the rickless Weston team and they draw Goderich in the semi-finals. Straight wins over Midland and Collingwood will put Aurora in the finals.
Midland had to go three games with Brantford and because they have artificial ice at their doorstep and can practice at will, they will be slight favorites over Flyers in all probability. Don't sell the Aurora boys short, however. If they play back to the form they displayed in those first two games with the Square, they'll more than hold their own. There aren't any better in junior C than Eric Smith, Ron Simmons and Bill Boychoff. The Deschamps brothers are said to be the leading Midland threats. Watch and listen as to where the second game is to be played. If the weather is right it'll be in Aurora. Too bad Aurora had to waste time with Unionville Lions and a group play-off. There's a lot of gold in them that play-off hills.
Stouffville Red Wings (yes, that's the Victoria Square team), is clashing with Hamilton Aerosvex in the B series. It looks like a tough break for Ike Harper's boys who have been idle a week and like Aurora lack artificial ice. Hamilton is coached by none other than Pinky Lewis, the only colored coach in captivity. Pinky will be remembered as coach of Owen Sound Greys when they played with Aurora in 1940. Lewis knows his hockey and has produced some mighty sweet performers. Upper Canada College and St. Mike's Buzzers should provide an all-Toronto prep school semi-final round with Kingston Saints and Toronto Byers in a close series also in the running. Byers are handled by Harry Morrison who has done quite a bit of refereeing this winter in the district. One district junior club still owes Harry his referee's fees and the matter will be dealt with by the O.H.A. There's no excuse for not paying officials.
In the intermediate A ranks, our old pals, the Markham Millionaires are still going strong. They took Collingwood, conquerors of Hoffman's and Penetang, in straight heats and now are likely to meet Trenton Flyers. They should hurdle that obstacle without too much difficulty. The Markies are flying high and they have bedded down in Oshawa arena with Stouffville for the rest of the season. Grimsby, the 1947 winners, are playing in senior B this season. Crowland, Paris or Preston, Georgetown or Milton will be the finalist opposition. Incidentally, Georgetown, who got a new lease on life by the protest route, is featuring Del Beaumont and Ken Nash of the 1942 Aurora junior squad. Rumor has it and we get it from good authority that Bob Bangay will be in pro company next season. "Sir Robert" is slated to join brother Nicholas in Philadelphia. At least one other of the Markham team may be induced to accept happy cabbage on the hockey mart for a living. Of all our district teams, Millionaires are the ones most generally favored to win a title.
In the senior rural series, the semi-finals have been reached and North York will produce one of the finalists as Woodbridge meets Sutton West. The southerners, coached by Charlie Rowntree have already ousted out Milton and Cayuga, while the Greenshirts have ousted the South Simcoe winners and St. Jacob's. Too bad one of the teams must fall by the wayside. Being in the play-offs is just an old Rowntree custom and Woodbridge present a well balanced team featuring Son Rowntree, Jim Smith, former Richmond Hill junior, Art Armstrong, Truman, who netminded Humber Summit to the championship, Ray Castator, Bill Tales and Remi Ireland of lacrosse fame. Bill Longhouse, still a juvenile, Bill Shaw, Son Kitchener, among others.
Ken Davie, the stylishly stout centremen of Collingwood Shipbuilders, coaches the northerners. The Greenshirts present quite a changed team from the one which won rural honors two years ago, or last season's intermediate O.H.A. club. Winch, last year's netminder for Keswick midgets, is playing a bang-up game in the nets, with Holder in reserve. Bob "Banker" Dunn and "Andy" Anderson are the regular defence pair. Davie centres a line flanked with the experienced Bob Lamont and George Holborn. Roger O'Dell, Hare and Huskinson, who performed with Roche's Point in the North York mercantile league, make up another trio and Griffith, former Sutton junior, Hood Burrows and the veteran Brady complete the roster. Just where the boys will play, if natural ice isn't available, presents a problem, although Ellis Pringle generally has ice when it's gone elsewhere. Woodbridge has made Otto Hardwick's Bolton bandbox the scene of capacity crowds. Both teams are out of the red on the season and stand to make some real gelt if they can play before home crowds on natural ice.
What a play-off picture; and if there's a better argument for at least one artificial ice plant in North York than the five teams in play-offs mentioned above we'd like to know about it. As it stands, the fans in these parts will be feeding the rink owners at Oshawa, Barrie, Ravina, Galt, etc. Markham, of course, stands to make money at Oshawa where they have a tremendous following. The others will find it more difficult to come out on the blue ink side at rink practices, rink slices, O.H.A. percentages (they stand in the group play-offs), increased referees' fees (funny how they rise when the chips are down), travelling expenses, etc., are deducted from the gross take. The strain on the purses of the fans as they follow their favorites in out-of-town trips is notable, too, and generally works a hardship on the family exchequer and local merchants for some weeks to come, especially after the first play-off round is ended. Yes indeed, in March and April and even May, artificial ice presents a golden egg and a need in the economy of North York. Aside from district O.H.A. and rural teams, the Toronto Hockey League has been offering $50 a night for natural ice accommodation to the arena managers of the district and gobbling up what space was offered, too.
Who are we picking in the various play-offs mentioned above? Brother, after the experience of other years and not wishing to put the hex on any of the teams, we refrain from putting it in black and white. If you read closely enough, a word to the wise in the matter of whom to support in the bull ring, if not in your hearts, is indicated.
